The Republican Platform. The National republican party of the United States assembled in National Convention in the city of Chicago, on the 20th day of May, 1868, make the following declaration of principles:-First—We congratulate the country on the assured success of the reconstruction policy of Congress as evinced by the adoption in the majority of the State lately in rebellion of constitu-tions securing equal civil and political rights to all; and it is the duty of the government to sustain those institutions and to prevent the people of those States from being remitted to a state of anarchy. (Cheers.)

Second-The guarantee by Congress of equal suffrage to all loyal men at the South was de manded by every consideration of public safety of gratitude and of justice, and must be tained while the question of suffrage in all the loyal States properly belongs to the people of those States. (Cheers.)

Third-We denounce all forms of repudiation as a national crime—(prolonged cheers)—and the national honor requires the payment of the public indebtedness in the utmost good faith to all creditors at home and abroad, not only according to the letter, but the spirit of the laws under which it was contracted. (Applause.)

Fifth-The national debt contracted, as it ha been, for the preservation of the Union for all fine to come, should be extended over a fair per riod for redemption; and it is the duty of Con ever it can be honestly done.

Sixth-That the best policy to diminish our burden of debt is to so improve our credit that capitalists will seek to loan us money at lower shamefully nursed and fostered by Andrew Johnson call foudly for radical reform.

Eighth- We professedly deplore the untimely his executive powers to render insecure the property, the peace, liberty and lite of the citizen; who has abused the pardoning power; who constitutional; who has persistently and cor rupuly resisted by every measure in his power every proper attempt at the reconstruction of the States lately in rebellion; who has perverted the public patronage into an engine of wholesale corruption, and who has been justly impeached pronounced guilty thereof by the vote of thirty five Senators.

Ninth - The doctrine of Great Britain and oth this country; and it so arrested and imprise

mentioned in this bill, shall be null and void | Tenth-Of all who were faithful in the frials of whole time of the rebellion, and who, during that time supported the Union and that that time, supported the Union, and they eruise and imperilled their lives in the service of shall have the same rights in the courts and their country; the bounties and pensions provi-Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That if | nation are obligations never to be forgotten; the wistows and orphans of the gallant dead are the Eleventh-Foreign emigration, which in the past has added so much to the wealth, development and resources and increase of power to this nation, the asylum of the oppressed of all nations sage of this act by the president of the con- should be fostered and encouraged by a libera vention which framed the constitution of and just policy.

Twelfthe-This Convention declares itself in sympathy with all the oppressed people which are struggling for their rights.
